The P-rade begins at 2 p.m. sharp! The Old Guard will lead the One and Only P-rade! Arrive on time!
Dear fellow Princetonians,

On behalf of the Alumni Association of Princeton University, it is my great honor to welcome you back to Old Nassau and Reunions 2019! Your class and APGA Reunions chairs, along with volunteers from dozens of alumni organizations working with dedicated campus partners, have once again created an extraordinary weekend. In these pages you will find a full schedule of programs and activities, ranging from athletic contests and student performances to community service projects, as well as class and departmental panels and receptions. This information, along with event reminders and safety alerts, is also accessible on the Reunions Events mobile app which is available for download on both iOS and Google Play by searching for Princeton Events.

On Friday and Saturday, attend one of our 20 Alumni-Faculty Forums, featuring distinguished alumni and faculty moderators speaking on a wide range of topics including the science of happiness, artificial intelligence, migration and immigration, military interests in cybersecurity, and changing careers and retirement, just to name a few. If music is your passion, stop by the Reunions headquarters sites each evening for memorable entertainment, stroll over to the arches throughout campus to hear Princeton’s a capella groups perform, spend Friday afternoon listening to groups from the past compete in the annual Alumni Battle of the Bands, and attend the Princeton University Band’s Fred E. Fox ’39 Memorial Concert Saturday morning on Cannon Green. Also that morning at 10:30 a.m., make your way to Richardson Auditorium for President Eisgruber’s annual “Conversation with Alumni,” before the start of the One and Only P-rade, which begins at 2 p.m. sharp. Once again, the Old Guard will lead the P-rade! For the grand finale, don’t miss the spectacular lawn concert and our unrivaled fireworks on Saturday evening. And for Reunions coverage throughout the weekend and beyond, visit the new Reunions website, reunions.princeton.edu, for photos, videos, social media feeds, and more!

Going back is among the greatest and most longstanding of Princeton traditions. We hope that you will take this time to reconnect with old friends and meet new ones, engage your mind, enjoy the beautiful campus, and rediscover why Princeton really is “the best old place of all.”

Have a wonderful weekend!

Jennifer A. Daniels ’93 S92

A Brief History of Princeton Reunions and the P-rade

All colleges encourage their graduates to maintain and demonstrate loyalty to their alma mater through return visits. However, no other institution welcomes all of its alumni and their families back for reunions on a yearly basis with the style and fanfare that is uniquely Princeton. Here is a short history of this ever-evolving annual tradition.

In the College of New Jersey’s early years, alumni regularly returned to campus to attend Commencement exercises. Its 100th Commencement in June 1847 drew an impressive 700 graduates for a formal dinner, escalating the tradition into a larger event. Until 1859, all alumni gathered together, but in that year, Alfred Woodhull, Class of 1856, organized the first “class” reunion, a triennial. He astutely surmised that reasonable attendance could be expected, because in that era, anyone who returned to campus for Commencement three years after graduation qualified for an automatic master’s degree (a practice lasting until 1892).

In 1861, a regiment bound for battle in the Civil War passing through Princeton captivated the College’s students with its “skyrocket” cheer, which imitated the sound of fireworks — “sis” for the zooming rocket; “boom” for the explosion; and “ahhhh” as the crowd expressed its pleasure for the resulting light show. At Princeton, the “sis, boom, ah” skyrocket cheer evolved into Princeton’s “locomotive,” where word repetition and increasing speed emulate the sound of a train pulling out from a station. “Tiger” was likely added to the cheer in the late 19th century, when athletic uniforms began consistently using orange and black.

The P-rade officially began in the late 1890s, but it is actually the merged product of earlier traditions. Beginning in the Civil War era, alumni formally processed to Commencement Day dinner meetings. Then in 1888, Princeton and Yale University began scheduling one of their baseball games at Princeton on the Saturday before Commencement. Since this coincided with class dinners, alumni attendance was high and many classes formally marched to the game at University Field (located at the corner of Prospect Avenue and Olden Street). In October 1896, when the newly renamed Princeton University celebrated its sesquicentennial (150th anniversary), 800 Princeton undergraduates and 2,000 alumni took part in a mile-long procession through the campus and town; most carried an orange torch or lantern, and many classes wore coordinated costumes. Stimulated by the grandeur and organization of this parade, in 1897 all returning classes first joined to march in order to the baseball game. By 1906, a written description of the annual event said, “The Alumni Pee-rade on Saturday afternoon was quite as spectacular as usual; the bands, banners, transparencies, uniforms and vaudeville features encircling University Field with color and noise.”
During early P-rades, the sole decoration worn by returning alumni was a small badge with class numerals on it. Gradually, classes began to distinguish themselves with creative hats, balloons and parasols; before long, younger classes wore colorful costumes, carried humorous signs, and often performed comic stunts. In 1912, some of that year’s graduating class dressed in blue denim overalls and jackets to protect their regular clothes from spilled beer stains. One year later, the Class of 1913 adopted white beer jackets as their costume. By 1920, the jackets became a tradition with the addition of unique class logos. To this day, each graduating class designs its own class jacket, worn for the first time during Reunions weekend. Classes typically design new costumes for each “major” quinquennial reunion up until the 25th, when they receive a class blazer. The Association of Princeton Graduate Alumni introduced a Reunions Blazer in 2003 and all graduate alumni, regardless of graduation year, are unified in wearing this blazer each year. Following Princeton tradition, the APGA introduced its own Reunions jackets, similar to beer jackets, in 2018.

Reunions were canceled in 1917 and 1918 for World War I, so the “Victory Commencement” of 1919 featured a throng of 5,000 alumni for the largest Reunions and P-rade yet. An even longer “Victory Reunion” P-rade in 1946 following World War II (and the canceled Reunions of 1943, 1944, and 1945) brought back 7,300 alumni, with each class carrying service flags showing the number of classmates who served and were killed in the war.

In 1947, the Class of 1922 held its 25th Reunion in Holder Hall Courtyard, becoming the first on-campus reunion site. (Previous reunions were held in private homes and rented spaces in town.) But it was not until 1952, that liquor was permitted to be served at the on-campus sites.

Rain has put the occasional damper on the P-rade but only once — in 1953 — did it force a cancellation. Even then, some classes insisted on marching anyway! Over time, P-rades and Reunions increasingly became a family affair, but it was not until the undergraduate body became coeducational in 1969 that women were officially welcome to participate in the P-rade.
From the early- to mid-20th century, the P-rade route began at Nassau Hall, moved across campus to 1879 Arch, then down Prospect Avenue and around University Field to pass the president in his reviewing box. Construction of the EQuad on the site of University Field in the late 1960s changed the end of the route to the new Clarke Field south of Ivy Lane. This era also marked the last Yale-Princeton Commencement baseball game (1966), so the P-rade ending changed to an Alumni Association meeting welcoming the graduating seniors into the alumni body. In the early 1990s, the route was altered again to keep the P-rade entirely on campus — beginning at FitzRandolph Gate, going around Nassau Hall and Cannon Green, then down Elm Drive to finish on Poe Field.

While much of the P-rade has stayed the same over the years — the Nassau Hall bell tolls at 2 p.m. sharp — 2018 marked perhaps the greatest change in tradition. The Old Guard (classes beyond the 65th Reunion) led the P-rade after the Grand Marshal and other dignitaries, (including the President), an honor previously bestowed upon the 25th Reunion Class. The new tradition continues this year with the Old Guard leading the way again. In recognition of his commitment to Reunions, the eldest returning alumnus from the oldest returning class has the special privilege of carrying the Class of 1923 Cane — a black wooden staff topped by a leaping silver tiger. Beginning in 1975, graduate alumni were invited to march between the 24th and 26th reunion classes, a tradition that has continued to this day. Throughout, dedicated alumni known as Marshals maintain order in their distinctive orange “Da Vinci” hats and blue blazers. The P-rade ends when the senior class marches onto Poe Field and gathers by the reviewing stand to be officially welcomed into the Alumni Association.

In 1996, in celebration of the University’s bicenquinquagenary (250th anniversary), a spectacular fireworks display was first held on Saturday night. The thousands of shells, custom soundtrack and tailored choreography of the 25-minute display quickly became a highlight and annual tradition during Reunions.

Increasing student body size and the inclusion of family members in the P-rade has swelled turnout and lively participation in the ever-more-colorful spectacle. Today, well over 25,000 alumni, family, and friends participate in this annual gathering, and no other university comes close to the pageantry, magnitude and ceremony of Princeton Reunions.

This summary was prepared by the Committee on Reunions and is adapted from the research and writings of Alexander Leitch ’24, William K. Selden ’34, Daniel N. White ’65, J. T. Miller ’70, and Liz Greenberg ’02.

Campus Exhibits

Chancellor Green

HYPHEN – New Portrait Photography by Students and Alumni
The photography exhibit shows the work of current students and recent graduates, focusing on the University’s diverse student population, their experiences at home and their lives at Princeton. The pictures reveal the hyphenated lives that students lead — between cultures, between identities, between spaces. Sponsored by the Campus Iconography Committee. Chancellor Green, Upper and Lower Hyphens.

East Pyne, South Lawn

The Experience of Solitary Confinement: Is it Humane?
The solitary confinement exhibit is run by The Campaign to End the New Jim Crow. You will have the opportunity to explore a replica cell, have a virtual reality experience and talk with an expert on the impact of solitary confinement. Should you want to donate any educational materials to Princeton’s Prison Teaching Initiative (PTI), you can drop them off at the exhibit site. Please visit bit.ly/2VmO8O3 for a description of needed materials. Thursday, 11:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Sponsored by the Class of 1994 and PTI. East Pyne, South Lawn.

Firestone Library

Steadfast Toy Soldiers
An exhibition about war games in picture books. Thursday to Saturday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM; Sunday, Noon to 5:00 PM. Firestone Library, Cotsen Children’s Library.

Welcome Additions: Selected Acquisitions 2012-18
“Welcome Additions” is a retrospective of recent additions to Princeton University Library’s special collections within the Cotsen Children’s Library, East Asian Library, Graphic Arts, Manuscripts, Marquand Library of Art and Archaeology, Numismatics, Public Policy Papers, Rare Books, Scheide Library, University Archives, and Western Americana. The exhibition theme, as described by Curator of Rare Books Eric White, “plays on the notion that our recent acquisitions may reflect either long-awaited opportunities to enhance existing collections, or unexpected ways of moving beyond traditional collecting interests.” Thursday and Friday, 10 AM to 6:00 PM and Saturday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM and Sunday 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM. Firestone Library, Lobby.

Frist Campus Center

Beer Jackets and Reunion Jackets on P-rade
The incomparable Tiger Fashion Show! The Bob Rodgers ’56 Reunion and Beer Jacket Collection archives over a century of Princeton history. Highlights from the collection are on display to commemorate the historic and ongoing tradition of celebratory jackets at Reunions. Sponsored by the Alumni Council Committee on Princetoniana. Frist Campus Center, Display Cases, Level 100.
James Johnson Exhibit
A photography exhibit on the life of James Collins Johnson offers a view into the six decades that Johnson, a freed slave, spent on and around Princeton’s campus from 1843 to 1902. A trial under the Fugitive Slave Act nearly had Johnson returned to his former owner, but a local woman purchased Johnson’s freedom (a debt he subsequently repaid). Over the next 60 years, he worked on campus in a variety of capacities, most notably in the memory of students, as the campus’s sole snack vendor. The Princeton University Trustees recently announced plans to name the easternmost arch in East Pyne Hall for Johnson. Sponsored by the Campus Iconography Committee. Frist Campus Center, East TV Lounge, Level 100.

Lewis Center for the Arts

Final Runnings Before the After
An exhibition of selected work in a variety of media by graduating seniors in the Program in Visual Arts. Thursday to Saturday, 10:00 AM to 8:30 PM. Sponsored by the Lewis Center for the Arts. Lewis Arts complex, Hurley Gallery.

GET REAL: Class of 1969 50th Reunion Exhibit
An exhibition of selected work by artists from the Class of 1969. Thursday to Saturday, 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM and Sunday, 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM. Sponsored by the Class of 1969. CoLab, Lewis Arts complex.

Office of International Programs

11th Annual International Eye Photo Exhibit
Hosted by the Office of International Programs, in collaboration with the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies, the exhibition showcases the experiences of Princeton undergraduates through photographs taken while they participated in international study, internships, service and research. Thursday to Sunday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Sponsored by the Office of International Programs. Louis A. Simpson International Building, Office of International Programs, A Level.

Princeton University Art Museum

Confronting Childhood
This exhibition considers the complex reality of childhood and family life in the modern world. Spanning more than 150 years, Confronting Childhood affords glimpses of children and their families through the vantage point of painting and primarily photography, including artists such as Diane Arbus, Ruth Bernhard, Lewis Carroll, Lewis Hine, Dorothea Lange, Sally Mann and Clarence White. Thursday, 10:00 AM to 9:00 PM; Friday to Sunday, 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Princeton University Art Museum.

Gainsborough’s Family Album
Thomas Gainsborough rose to become one of the most fashionable artists of 18th-century Britain, relying on commissioned portraits of royalty and aristocrats to make his living. Even as he professed a preference for painting landscapes, Gainsborough created images of his family more than any other artist before him. In turning to his family—his wife, father, sisters, even servants and pets, but most importantly his daughters as they grew—Gainsborough left a legacy that is both poignant and modern for its time. Thursday, 10:00 AM to 9:00 PM; Friday to Sunday, 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Princeton University Art Museum.
Miracles on the Border: Retablos of Mexican Migrants to the United States
Retablos are thank-you notes to the heavens dedicated to Christ, the Virgin or saints to consecrate a miraculous event. The votives on view were offered by Mexican migrants and their families to commemorate the dangers of crossing the border and living in the United States. They eloquently express subjects of greatest concern to the migrants, such as the difficulty of finding work or falling sick in a foreign land and the relief of returning home. Thursday, 10:00 AM to 9:00 PM; Friday to Sunday, 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Princeton University Art Museum.

Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library
Redefining Old Nassau: Women and the Shaping of Modern Princeton
This exhibition celebrates Princeton women’s achievements and their stories, and provides insights into how women have pursued knowledge, claimed space, and supported one another over the past five decades. Mudd Manuscript Library, Wiess Lounge.

Locomotive Cheer

Princeton’s first cheer, “Hooray, hooray, hooray! Tiger Siss-boom-ah, Princeton!” was adapted from the “skyrocket” cheer of the Seventh Regiment of New York City as they passed through Princeton on their way to Washington a few days after the outbreak of the Civil War. The cheer was intended to simulate the launch, explosion and reaction to a firework.

Sometime in the 1890s, the skyrocket cheer developed into the “locomotive,” Princeton’s longest-used and most distinctive cheer, which starts slowly and picks up increasing speed, suggesting the sound of a locomotive:

Hip! Hip!

Rah, Rah, Rah,

Tiger, Tiger, Tiger,

Sis, Sis, Sis,

Boom, Boom, Boom, Ah!

Princeton! Princeton! Princeton!

Need to Know

Public Safety
Call Public Safety first in an emergency. Public Safety (200 Elm Drive) can expedite emergency services by coordinating with local responders.

• Dial 609-258-3333 from your mobile device.
• Dial 911 from a campus phone or call box.

Disclaimer
Photographs and recordings, including live-streamed video broadcasts, taken by anyone authorized by Princeton University during Reunions may be used in publications, both electronic and print, at the discretion of the University.

Sustainability During Reunions: Help Make Green the New Orange

• Bring Reusables – Because international recycling markets are undergoing major changes, mixed single-use plastic items used at Reunions are no longer recyclable in the Princeton area. Bring your reusable water bottle, travel mug, utensils, beverage cup and more to Reunions.

• Become a founding member of the Reunions Sustainability Committee – Help us conceptualize, develop and invent the future of sustainability at Reunions.

• Serve as a Reunions Sustainability Chair for your class, by helping socialize sustainability initiatives with your classmates and becoming active partners in making them successful.

• Participate in a Sustainability event at Reunions 2019 – Look for Greening Reunions events in the schedule.

Contact greeningreunions@princeton.edu to learn more or get involved.

After Reunions, visit Princeton Alumni Weekly Online to view images and videos from the weekend. A selection of #PrincetonReunions photos from readers will appear in our July issue. paw.princeton.edu
